

Art Project.

I have seen some good programmes on TV during the lockdown.

1. The Joy of Painting on BBC4 - try the iplayer. A bit odd but still of interest.
2. Andrew Maar did a good programme on the paintings done by Winston Churchill. Again, try the iplayer though you may find this heavy going. Still worth a watch.
3. Channel 4 has an art club presented by Grayson Perry. Good fun and full of ideas.

I have been painting too. I will upload a picture very soon and some thoughts. I would love to know what you think about my painting.

The important thing is to be as creative and original as possible.

When you upload your work, try to say a few words about your thinking and your ideas. You could try to mention areas where you have been particularly successful in your aims - and why! You could also talk about things that have not gone so well.

Ask yourself if you are willing to have another go if you are not happy with your results. I am rarely happy with my own work and have done many paintings of the same subject. I don't tend to get bored.

And please put your name on your work!

I will add to this over the next little while as and when I come up with things to say - this will, to a great extent, depend on the work you do. Much has happened over the last few weeks. The trees are green and the landscape has evolved.

The best way to feed your imagination is to do something in the first place.

I look forward to seeing your work.
